[REDACTED]

This might seem inappropriate to tell a teacher, but I trust you. The reason I have been acting a little weird is because my mother hates me and is going to send me back to Jamaica because I told her that her boyfriend basically had sex with me against my will. I can't keep up with my studies or grades because I'm stressed out. Lawyers are asking me embarrassing questions, I have to get counseling, and I have to go to court to tell a jury and judge (in detail) what happened. My mom says it's my fault and that I have no respect for her. [REDACTED] put me on probation in doubt because I am failing math, I'm trying to pass her class but in the end I have nothing to lose because I'm going back to Jamaica to live with my abusive father, who's always beating me. She says she is done with me when she sends me back. She's not going to send money for me to go to school, to buy uniforms, or even to eat. My sister is begging for me but I don't stand a chance. She won't even press my clothes, comb my hair, or let me sleep in her room anymore. So forgive me if I say that repeating the eighth grade is the least of my problems.
